RetailMeNot Launches "Guess The Score" Contest Where Consumers Can Win The Ultimate Football Fan Package - Gameday Tickets in 2014, Fan Gear, a New 60" Flatscreen TV and Free Pizza for a Year!

Austin, TX, January 30, 2013, RetailMeNot (www.retailmenot.com), the largest online coupon site in the United States, today released a special football edition of its Shoppers Trend Report with up-to-date statistics based on a survey conducted by The Omnibus Company (www.omnibus.com), a division of Kelton.

Just in the time for Sunday's Big Game, the results of the survey are as follows:

- Nearly 70% of those surveyed have a favorite football team
 - o 80% of men have a favorite team and 56% of women have a favorite team
- One in two (50%) people surveyed will participate in various football-related activities this year for Sunday's Big Game, spending an average of $72 on related parties or entertaining
- Over a third (35%) of people surveyed with a favorite football team admit they'd be willing to pay less for Christmas gifts if it meant they could spend more money on tickets to their team's game
- 42% of people surveyed say that if they won tickets to the Super Bowl, they'd go to the game themselves instead of selling or giving away these tickets
 - o 37% of 18-24 year olds indicated that they would most likely sell Super Bowl tickets for cash if they won them, whereas only 4% of respondents in that age range would donate them to charity
- More than 1 in 5 (21%) people surveyed plan to bet on the game, betting an average of nearly $80 in total ($79)
 - o Only 12% of people surveyed who will bet on the Super Bowl this year will use a bookie
- 59% of women surveyed said that spending time with family and friends would be their most favorite part of hosting/attending a Super Bowl party, compared to only 49% of males.

CONTEST - Guess The Score!

Guess the final score of the "Big Game" and one lucky winner will score the ultimate fan package! The grand prize winner will receive funds to purchase a pair of tickets to a football game in 2014, fan gear, a 60" flat screen TV and pizza for a year!

Survey Methodology

The survey was conducted between January 22nd and January 27th, 2013, among 1,000 United States residents ages 18 and over, using an email invitation and an online survey. Quotas are set to ensure reliable and accurate representation of the entire U.S. population ages 18 and over. Results of any sample are subject to sampling variation. The magnitude of the variation is measurable and is affected by the number of interviews and the level of the percentages expressing the results. In this particular study, the chances are 95 in 100 that a survey result does not vary, plus or minus, by more than 3.1 percentage points from the result that would be obtained if interviews had been conducted with all persons in the universe represented by the sample. The margin of error for any subgroups will be slightly higher.
